Important Instructions for Candidates Called for Interview

1. Mode and Venue of Interview

- All interviews shall be conducted in person at the date, time, and venue specified in the interview call. Requests for an online interview or any alternative mode of interview shall not be entertained.

2. Documents to Be Produced at the Interview

Candidates must bring the original documents along with one set of self-attested photocopies of the following:

1. Identity Proof: Aadhaar Card or, in its absence, any other valid government-issued photo identity document.
2. Educational Qualifications: Marksheet(s), degree certificate(s), or provisional certificate(s) of the qualifying examination, clearly indicating the percentage of marks obtained. Candidates whose results are expressed in CGPA or another grading system must produce an official equivalence certificate or notification specifying the corresponding percentage, wherever applicable.

   The prescribed minimum qualification is a postgraduate degree (MA/MSc) in Psychology, Neuropsychology, Applied Psychology, Cognitive Sciences, Social Sciences, or an allied discipline, with a minimum of 55% marks at the postgraduate level, subject to the eligibility criteria specified for the respective post in the recruitment advertisement.

3. Additional Qualification for Project Research Scientist-II (Non-Medical): MPhil/PhD degree or relevant supporting documents, as prescribed in the recruitment advertisement.
4. NET/JRF Scorecard: Where applicable and as required under the eligibility criteria for the respective post.
5. Detailed Curriculum Vitae (CV): The CV must include the candidate's current contact details (mobile number and email address) and the names and contact details of two referees.
6. Statement of Interest: A one-page statement of interest, not exceeding 500 words, explaining the candidate's suitability for the project and the position applied for.
7. Research Publications/Writing Sample: Up to two publications or one relevant published writing sample in English, preferably approximately 2,000–4,000 words, demonstrating the candidate's relevant research or academic writing experience.

3. Documents Supporting Desirable Qualifications

Candidates who possess the following desirable qualifications or experience are advised to bring relevant supporting documents, wherever available:

- Prior experience in funded research projects, preferably in areas related to behavioural addiction, clinical psychology, cognitive neuroscience/neuropsychology, neurofeedback, and EEG data acquisition and analysis.
- Proficiency in Microsoft Excel and statistical or qualitative data analysis software, such as SPSS, R, MATLAB, and NVivo.
- Experience in experimental design and programming using E-Prime and/or PsychoPy.

4. Provisionally Eligible Candidates

Candidates identified as provisionally eligible must produce the required supporting documents at the time of the interview. Their eligibility shall be subject to verification of the documents and fulfilment of the prescribed criteria for the respective position. Failure to produce the required documents may result in the candidate not being considered for the concerned position.

Eligibility has been assessed separately for each advertised position. Accordingly, a candidate who does not meet the additional eligibility requirements for one position may still be eligible for another position, subject to fulfilment of all prescribed criteria for that position.

5. General Instructions

1. The positions are purely temporary and shall be co-terminus with the project.
2. No TA/DA shall be payable for attending the interview.
3. The interview result shall be published on the University website and communicated to the selected candidates through email.
4. The University reserves the right to amend, reschedule, cancel, suspend, or withdraw the recruitment process, in part or in full, in accordance with applicable rules and institutional requirements.
5. Plagiarised writing samples shall be liable to rejection.
6. The engagement of a selected candidate may be terminated in accordance with the applicable terms and conditions if their performance is found unsatisfactory.
7. Any dispute or ambiguity arising during the selection process shall be dealt with in accordance with the applicable University rules and procedures.
8. The selected candidate must be willing to join immediately, subject to completion of the requisite formalities.

6. Contact for Queries

For any queries regarding the recruitment process, candidates may email pratima@aud.ac.in with the subject line: Query Regarding ICMR Project Recruitment.
