

Dr. B.R. Ambedkar University Delhi

Project: Pandemics as a non-traditional threat to security: Understanding the impact and challenges for developing states

Date of Publication: 18.07.2024

Position: Research Intern

Remuneration: Rs.62,775

Duration: 75 days

Job Description: Execute the research project with assigned duties by the Principal Investigator (PI). Conducting the fieldwork, interviews of experts, transcription of the interviews and collating the data collected into tables, bar graphs and pie charts. Meeting with the experts in the discipline/field. Analysing the relevant data to the study from primary sources. Documentation of the field work and other relevant data as assigned by the PI.

Qualification:

Essential: Postgraduation in International Relations, Global Studies, Economics, Public Health.

(Anyone with higher qualification can also be considered.)

Desirable: Experience in field-based study. Good communication and writing skills. Working knowledge of MS-Office. Familiarity to Delhi NCR.

Roles and Responsibility:

- Understanding the literature and scholarships related to the topic
- Meeting with experts
- Data collection, data processing and data analysis
- Maintaining field notes
- Transcribing interviews

Interested candidates, kindly send their CVs to mchaurasiya@aud.ac.in

Last date to apply- 27th July, 2024.