

Training & Placements Cell 2026

Date:29.09.2026

The University has established a dedicated Training & Placement Cell (T&P Cell) to facilitate career development and placement opportunities for its students. The Cell serves as a vital link between the University and industry, corporate organizations, government agencies, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), and social sector institutions. Throughout the academic year, the T&P Cell organized a series of career guidance programmes, employability skill development workshops, internships, placement drives, and industry engagement activities to enhance students' professional competencies and employment prospects.

The Cell actively collaborated with organizations across diverse sectors to provide students with meaningful internship and placement opportunities. These initiatives enabled students to participate in recruitment processes, secure internships, and receive pre-placement offers (PPOs), thereby strengthening their career readiness and professional exposure.

Recognizing the University's commitment to social responsibility and public engagement, the T&P Cell also facilitated placements in the social development sector. Social sector placements provide students with valuable opportunities to apply academic knowledge in real-world settings, develop practical and leadership skills, engage with diverse communities, and contribute to sustainable social development. Such experiences foster professional growth, ethical values, and civic responsibility while preparing students for impactful careers in both the development and corporate sectors.

The Training & Placement Cell remains committed to strengthening industry-academia partnerships, expanding placement opportunities, and equipping students with the knowledge, skills, and professional competencies required to succeed in an evolving global workforce.
