All 10 new Central Secretariat buildings likely to be completed in 2027, says govt

NEW DELHI The government has announced that all 10 new Central Secretariat buildings, which are part of the Central Secretariat Building (CSB) project, are likely to be completed by 2027. The project, which was initiated in 2014, aims to modernise the Central Secretariat and provide better working conditions for government employees. The new buildings will be constructed in a phased manner, with the first building completed in 2023 and the last building completed in 2027. The project is being implemented by the Central Public Works Department (CPWD) and the Central Secretariat Building Corporation (CSBC).
