'Bail can't be withheld as punishment': High Court grants relief to NewsClick founder

By Anand Gopal
The Delhi High Court on Monday granted bail to the founder of NewsClick, a digital news platform, after rejecting the prosecution's plea for a permanent injunction against him. The court, in a judgment delivered by Justice Anoop Kumar, held that the prosecution's plea was not maintainable as it sought to punish the founder by withholding bail. The court also granted the founder bail on the grounds that he was not a flight risk and had no criminal record. The founder, who is also the managing director of NewsClick, had been arrested in connection with a case involving the alleged misuse of the platform for spreading misinformation. The court's decision is a significant relief for the founder, who has been facing legal challenges since the arrest.

The court's decision is a significant finding against the MCD and DFS, who have been accused of negligence in not reporting the illegal use of the basement. The court also granted the Rau family compensation for the damages caused by the illegal use of the basement.
